

Nursing Workforce

The Health Committee heard from senior officials, including Minister of State for Health, Philip Dunne MP, about the challenges facing the nursing workforce in England and the actions Government and arms-length bodies are taking to address these problems.