

APPG Cycling

This morning, I attend a meeting of the All Party Parliamentary Group on Cycling. This is one of my passions and I regularly make use of the fantastic cycle routes that we have across Devon. During this meeting, there was an informative presentation by Cycling UK about how we can push the Government into supporting increased cycling infrastructure and investment. We should take the lead from several European cities, whose specialised design and planning has resulted in a drastic uptake in cycling.